WELCOME TO COLLEGIO GHISLIERI!

A BRIEF HISTORY OF OUR COLLEGE

Our College was founded in 1567 by Pope Pius V, born Antonio Ghislieri, for young people of modest economic possibilities but gifted with talent. He subsequently destined a vast land patrimony to the College, as to guarantee its economic independence that still lasts today, and he ordered a palace to be built to lodge the students. Works began in 1571 and the palace, a few steps away from the centre of Pavia and its University, still welcomes students from all around the world with open doors.

The College was immediately equipped with a library of three hundred and fifty volumes which has grown to over 130,000 volumes today, one of the largest and most impressive book collections in all of Europe.

In 1723 its most famous pupil, Carlo Goldoni, entered the College.

From 1771 the patronage of the College was linked to a state authority, passing from that of the Ghislieri family to that of the Empress Maria Theresa of Austria. Today, Collegio Ghislieri is still under the patronage of the President of the Republic.

The arrival of the Napoleonic troops, in 1796, did not stop the activity of the College. Those at the turn of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries were years of fervor and change: in fact, close to the passage of Napoleon there is the Rectorate of Giovanni Rasori, professor of pathology and the first layman to hold the office of Rector.

In 1861, once the unification of Italy was completed, a decree was approved to regulate admission to the College: since then, the places of pupils have been conferred through an entrance exam.

For the first time in Italy the principle of merit in studies was sanctioned as we still know it today. It was also established that Ghislierians who are particularly distinguished can be awarded scholarships or specialization grants at home or abroad. Ghislieri still finances specific student projects and allows them to spend periods in prestigious universities and colleges around the world thanks to a dense network of exchange grants and the presence of a specific fund for internationalization.

The activity of the College was interrupted only during the First World War, when it was transformed into a military hospital. In that troubled era, the Rectorate of the Roman law scholar Pietro Ciapessoni began, who will retain the title until 1943. During the years of Fascism, Ciapessoni safeguarded the independence of the College, effectively guaranteeing freedom to the students, and directed the work of Ghislieri to the training of his students as academics and professionals of value, appreciated within and outside the borders of Italy. Ciapessoni was also the first Rector to have been a student of the College, according to a custom that continues today.

The foundations for further development of the College were laid in the brief but significant experience of the Rector Teresio Olivelli, deported in 1943 and assassinated in the Hersbruck concentration camp in 1945. Immediately after the Second World War, the establishment of the Alumni Association was inspired by one of his ideas. The Association is still the main promoter of the sense of belonging, collaboration and solidarity between pupils belonging to all generations.

After the war, the College was led by Aurelio Bernardi, a scholar of Roman history and Rector until 1979. During his Rectorate, in 1966, a women's section was opened. Ghislieri thus became the first mixed university college in Italy and one of the very first in Europe. The project was realized thanks to the benefactress Sandra Bruni, who gave life to the Foundation named after her, incorporated in 2019 within the Ghislieri Foundation.

Under the Rectorate of Andrea Belvedere, Professor Emeritus of Civil Law at the University of Pavia, the most recent years have seen a constant growth in the cultural activities and initiatives proposed and offered by the College, as well as in its structures and services.

A substantial plan of construction, extension and building enhancement was completed. Starting in the 1980s, the construction of the modern structure of Ca 'della Paglia was promoted and financed, created as a residence for graduate students and today a college of merit open mainly to PhD students, international students and postgraduates.

At the turn of the 90s and early 2000s, Ghislieri took on the burden of transforming the deconsecrated church in the square in front of the College, San Francesco da Paola, into the Aula Magna. The Aula Magna is used for large events, concerts and conferences both by the Ghislieri Foundation and by entities that require its use. In the same way, Ghislieri took charge of the restoration of the sumptuous architectural complex of the Castle of Lardirago, a splendid 14th century building halfway between Pavia and Milan, now equipped for exhibitions, shows and events.

In 2003, the Center for Communication and Research was also founded, which has now become a University Research and Teaching Center, which organizes advanced training courses and seminars and finances research, especially in the biomedical field, through the provision of scholarships and bursaries.

Finally, with a view to boosting the musical activity that already characterized the College's University Choir, in 2006 the birth of the Association Ghislieri Musica was supported, from which the Ancient Music Center of the Ghislieri Foundation was born in 2018, for the study, production and dissemination of historically informed music.

The current Rector of the Collegio, appointed in 2021, is Dr Alessandro Maranesi, class of 1985, a Professor of Ancient History at the University of Pavia.

STUDYING AT COLLEGIO GHISLIERI

TRAINING PROGRAMMES

❖ MANDATORY ACADEMIC TRAINING AT GHISLIERI

International students at Collegio Ghislieri are required to take part in our many and diversified courses and training activities.

Like our regular alumni, you will be expected to attend a total of at least 70 training hours per year, if you are Bachelor's student; 25 hours if you enrolled in a Master's program. The number of hours is proportionally reduced if your stay at Collegio Ghislieri does not cover an entire academic year.

Our academic tutors will be happy to assist you to choose the most suitable training activities for your curriculum.

NOTA BENE: THESE CLASSES ARE OFFERED ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY IN ITALIAN

❖ TAILORED MADE CLASSES AND LANGUAGE COURSES

We offer our regular and international students the opportunity to take languages classes, at the Collegio, in English, French, Spanish, and German.

Italian language classes can be arranged upon request

BUDDY PROGRAM:

Would you like to be paired with one of our students at Collegio Ghislieri?
Then let us know by writing at international.relations@ghislieri.it !

❖ COACHING

- Some of our trainers may prepare coaching activities based on our students' different needs (for this kind of tailored activities, you are asked to join at least one regular course/project)

WELCOME TO PAVIA!

PRACTICALITIES AND EVERY-DAY LIFE

- If you arrive from the USA or Australia or other non-European countries, do not forget to bring with you a copy of your health-insurance.
- In Italy, the emergency phone number is 112.
- The weather in Pavia is humid and hot in summer, cold and rainy in winter. Be prepared when you stock your clothes in your suitcases! Reliable weather forecasts are available at this web page: <https://www.3bmeteo.com/meteo/pavia>
- Bring with you one or more adapters for Italian plugs.
- If you arrive from the USA or Australia, be sure that your power transformers can support European voltage. American appliances run on 110 volts, while European appliances are 220 volts. Many power adapters are "dual voltage" but make sure to double check that they include the 220 volts plug.

FINANCIAL ITEMS

- ❖ Make sure you always have some cash money on you in case of expected or unexpected payments and fees.

It is now illegal in Italy to refuse payment by credit or debit card, whatever the amount, but please be aware that for some payments (e.g. a short taxi ride, a coffee in a bar etc.) vendors might still urge you to pay by cash and ATMS may not be available within reach of cafeterias, restaurants, etc.

- ❖ If you arrive from UK, Switzerland, Australia, or the USA, make sure to change some money with Euros before your arrival: in Pavia there are no exchange offices for tourists.

How to get to Pavia

To reach Pavia, you have the option to travel either by public transportation or by taxi from the major airports and the train station of Milano Centrale.

BY PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION:

a. FROM MILANO LINATE AIRPORT (LIN)

- 1. take an 'ATM Air bus' line to Milan Central Station (Milano Centrale), the journey takes about 25 minutes; ticket fare: 5 Eur one way; tickets can be purchased before the departure.

Living in Pavia

Pavia is a quiet and peaceful university town full of students. The city centre is generally safe and you can easily go on foot to reach most of the places downtown. The shops and boutiques in the central area are open from Monday to Saturday from 9.00 to 12.30 and from 15.00/15.30 to 19.30. The department stores, the book stores and supermarkets are usually open from Monday to Sunday. Small stores are usually closed on Sunday (but in some periods of the year they are open) and/or on Monday morning.

The major streets of the town, Corso Strada Nuova, Corso Cavour and Corso Garibaldi have many shops, restaurants, bar, and boutiques that meet any kind of taste.

PURCHASING AN ITALIAN SIM CARD

How: Purchasing a SIM in Italy requires to present a valid document of identification, such as a passport or ID and your Italian Tax Code (codice fiscale).

In Italy you can choose among various service providers. You can compare mobile rates on this website: <https://www.facile.it/telefonia-tariffe-cellulari.html>

GOOD TO KNOW:

- Top-Up: Pay as you go top-ups can be purchased in different places than just SIM shops or websites, such as most tobacconists, many supermarkets, some news agents, some bars and coffeeshops.

CINEMAS IN PAVIA

In Pavia's outskirts there are several multiplex cinemas, quite difficult to reach if not by car (or private Taxi). In Pavia's downtown the little, old-fashioned Cinema Politeama schedules a selection of Italian and international movies.
